

America has 12 million illegal aliens and 19 million unemployed Americans.*

Guess which group President Obama wants to help.

Ignoring the plight of an estimated 19 million unemployed Americans and their families, President Barack Obama and his allies in Congress want to allow millions of illegal aliens to remain in the U.S., free to work and access benefits at the expense of struggling Americans. The same political leaders, including the President, advocate unilateral “executive action” by the White House to achieve those results if Congress won’t act.

Immigration policy should be fair – but not just fair to immigrants. It should also be fair to U.S. citizens. And it is not fair to force unemployed and under-employed Americans to compete for scarce jobs with working-age foreign citizens who have violated our laws.

The American people want fairness and jobs. Not amnesty for lawbreakers.
